

Wakefield Living Magazine

Raleigh's Madison Avenue

As you begin shopping around for the perfect look to match your style, keep a new and innovative shopping center in mind: The Lassiter at North Hills, located at the corner of Six Forks and Lassiter Mill roads. This 81,000-square-foot shopping area is home to Raleigh's finest boutiques, including well known favorites like Tyler House, George McNeill's Antiques, Edith Medlin Antiques, Quintessentials and Divine Collections, Beanie + Cecil, Orchids by Millie, Shop 20•12 and Elaine Miller Collection. There are also several new merchants including Plush, a shoe boutique; Ivy Cottage, which offers women's accessories; LUXE, which sells designer skin care products; Yves Delorme, which features fine French linens; Learning Express, a toy store; Posh Pregnancy, and Mephisto Shoes.

While The Lassiter at North Hills is Raleigh's ultimate shopping destination for fashion, it also boasts fine restaurants, eateries and specialty retailers like Capper's

Restaurant and Tavern, Panera Bread Company, Pharaoh's, Starbucks Coffee, Harris Teeter, GNC Live Well, Verizon Wireless, Blockbuster Video, Kerr Drugs, Brother's Cleaners and soon, Mail Boxes Etc.

The Lassiter at North Hills combines elegance and accessibility as it offers the area's finest retailers and is the first phase of a 45-acre mixed-use destination developed by Kane Realty Corporation. Raleigh's "Madison Avenue" takes shopping up a notch, so come out and enjoy the experience.

With such extensive local shopping resources, discovering your personal style can be a thrilling experience. Just remember to observe fashion trends, seek expertise and ask for opinions. Most important, wear what makes you feel confident and comfortable, whether you're dressing for a day at the office or a day on the soccer field.

MW